	Examiner Thien M. Le	Art Unit 2876

-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

The information disclosure statements filed on 12/3/2003 and 2/9/2004 have been entered. Claim 1 is presented for examination.

Double Patenting

A rejection based on double patenting of the "same invention" type finds its support in the language of 35 U.S.C. 101 which states that "whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process ... may obtain a patent therefor ..." (Emphasis added). Thus, the term "same invention," in this context, means an invention drawn to identical subject matter. See Miller v. Eagle Mfg. Co., 151 U.S. 186 (1894); In re Ockert, 245 F.2d 467, 114 USPQ 330 (CCPA 1957); and In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970).

A statutory type (35 U.S.C. 101) double patenting rejection can be overcome by canceling or amending the conflicting claims so they are no longer coextensive in scope. The filing of a terminal disclaimer cannot overcome a double patenting rejection based upon 35 U.S.C. 101.

Claim 1 is provisionally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 as claiming the same invention as that of claim 1 of copending Application No. 10/241,971. This is a provisional double patenting rejection since the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claim 1 is rejected in view of claim 1 of the '971 patent in that both claims recite the followings:

1. A system for granting permission of a user's personal information to a third party, comprising:

a terminal means for entering a personal information of a user and a permission information indicating at least one permissible use of said personal information of said user by a third party, for storing said personal information and said permission information entered, for receiving from said third party an item in accordance with said permission information

stored therein from said third party; and an information management means electrically connected to said terminal means for managing said personal information and said permission information stored in said terminal means, for evaluating said personal information stored therein in accordance with said permission information stored therein if an access to said personal information is requested from said third party, and for providing to said third party said requested personal information if said access to said requested personal information is permissible in accordance with a result of said evaluation.
